Michigan Challenge 08

Sixty-five competitors from ages five to sixty-one and from as far away as Ashland, Ohio and Marquette, Michigan came out to compete over the weekend in the Michigan Challenge, held at Boyne Mountain.

On Saturday, March 22, the 3rd Annual Adgate Trophy Giant Slalom, hosted by BOYNE Resorts' SnowSports Ambassador Cary Adgate, was held on the North McLouth run. The race was marked by bright sunshine and an ideal hard racing surface.

When the dust settled, the women's champion was Morgan Harding, from Boyne City, MI, and a member of the 2007 Girls State Champion BCHS Ski Team. Her time would have placed her 11th among the men's competitors. There was a close duel for 2nd place between Jana Staron, East Jordan, and Marylynn Webster, Holland, MI, with Jana coming out on top by just 0.18 second.

On the men's side, Adgate, 54, from Boyne Falls, MI, successfully defended his title from 2007, followed by Jamie Close of Marquette, MI, less than one second back. Rounding out the top three was Jay Liegl, Petoskey, MI, just another 0.3 seconds behind Close.

On Sunday, March 23, the racing moved to the notorious Hemlock run for slalom racing in the 4th Annual Everett Kircher Cup. Hard snow conditions and technical courses tested the competitors' skill and consistency.

The same three women from Saturday's podium - in a shuffled order - set the pace down Hemlock. This time it was Marylynn Webster showing her experience and taking the title, after having finished as runner-up in the 2007 edition of the race. Harding finished in second, followed by Staron.

For the men, Reilly Harris, 17, from Ashland, Ohio took the title with a slim 0.01 second lead after the first run, but building on that for a 1.02 second victory. Adgate took second followed by Ben Tolzdorf, 18, of Harbor Springs, MI, who rebounded from a difficult first run by posting the second fastest second run.
